GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR PERSPECTIVE CONTRIBUTORS

by

Sally Ramage

I am the editor of the Criminal LAWYER, Bloomsbury Professional (owned by Bloomsbury, London, United Kingdom) and my CV can be viewed on the Internet at my own webpage at <http://www.criminal-lawyer.org.uk/>

Lawtel, Westlaw and LexisNexis depositories

I have written and had published over two hundred and fifty criminal law articles which are deposited in the Westlaw and Lawtel legal databases (owned by Thomson Reuters whose operational headquarters are located at 3 Times Square, Manhattan, New York City; and Thomson Reuters has its legal domicile at 333 Bay Street, Suite 400, Toronto, Ontario M5H 2R2, Canada. Thomson Reuters is mostly owned (55%) by the Woodbridge Company Limited, a Canadian private holding company and the principal and controlling shareholder.

Many other of my legal articles are in the LexisNexis legal database (owned by the listed company Reed Elsevier Plc (RELX Group, an Anglo-Dutch multinational information and analytics company based in London, UK which operates in four market segments: scientific, technical and medical; risk and business information; legal; and exhibitions).

SSRN and PhilPapers depositories

I am also the author of thirteen criminal law published hard-copy law books. I have recently removed the 53 law papers accepted by the academic board of the SSRN website because they were dated. The Social Science Research Network (SSRN) is a legal database consortium of the top United States Universities' academics, with Professor Greg Gordon as president and based at 2171 Monroe Avenue, Suite 203 Rochester, NY 14618. Professor Gordon, many years ago, worked at KPMG and two entrepreneurial companies in technology and health care. His work at KPMG focused on start-ups, spin-offs, and other nascent enterprises.

The PhilPaper Foundation is a Canadian non-profit organisation which supports the development of online services aimed at advancing research and furthering education in philosophy and other disciplines (including law). PhilPapers is active in software development, supported by the PhilPapers Foundation, and this advancement takes mainly takes place at the Centre for Digital Philosophy, University of Western Ontario. The PhilPapers Foundation is jointly directed by Professor David Bourget of the School of Advanced Legal Studies, University of London in the United Kingdom and Distinguished Professor of Philosophy, Dr David Chalmers, Director of the Centre for Consciousness at the Australian National University and Professor of Philosophy and Co-Director of the Centre for Mind, Brain, and Consciousness at New York University (see also <http://consc.net/chalmers/>).

Police Journal and Journal of Information Technology* depositories

My other legal writings have been published in the peer-reviewed Police Journal (owned by Sage Publications, bought recently from Vathek).

One recent paper has been published in the peer-reviewed Journal of Information Technology (owned by Informa).

Association of Accounting Technicians, Mondaq, and PoliceOne* depositories

I have written twelve consecutive 'Legal Page' articles in the Accounting Technician, a monthly series of the Association of Accounting Technicians, (a professional body and company limited by guarantee, registered charity no. 1050724, with its Head Quarters at 140 Aldergate Street, London EC1A 4HY, UK). The AAT has 125,000 Global accountancy technician members.

There have been published on the Findlaw Internet website, <http://www.findlaw.com/> several of my longer law papers on comparative serious fraud. Findlaw is now owned by Thomson Reuters.

Findlaw is the American legal database at website at <http://www.findlaw.com/> .

The Mondaq Weekly Global Legal Newsletter had held 35 law articles authored by me. I have now removed these as they were dated.

PoliceOne.com database

There have been published on the American police Internet website at <http://www.PoliceOne.com/> 108 of my law articles.

PoliceOne holds American police training content from the most popular source of law enforcement news and information. It is the learning management system from America's most trusted source of information for law enforcement.

The Criminal LAWYER is one of the United Kingdom's few criminal law journals. It is published bi-monthly by Bloomsbury Professional (Head Office: Maxwellton House, 41-43 Boltro Road, Haywards Heath, RH16 1BJ, United Kingdom) publishes a range of magazines and journals covering specialist subject areas. The Criminal LAWYER is specifically for criminal law practitioners. In the main, it includes the latest thinking on current criminal law issues in the jurisdiction of the United Kingdom and sometimes other European Union Member States and states in the United States of America.

One or two of the best and most recent published criminal law books suitable for the criminal law practitioner are carefully reviewed in every issue of the Criminal Lawyer publication, alongside a critical analysis of a recent case law; one or two criminal law articles on recent legislation for England and Wales and sometimes for Scotland and Northern Ireland also; with brief intelligent updates on any new EU Directives; Statutory Instruments, contemporary criminal law issues that affect the UK and brief details of the most relevant upcoming criminal law conferences. It is not verbose and takes account of criminal law practitioners' busy schedules.

The Criminal LAWYER delivers quality information and cutting edge criminal law analysis directed mainly to solicitors and barristers in British Law Courts. It is also a reliable resource for Judges, University Law Schools, the United Kingdom's Serious Fraud Office; Her Majesty's Customs and Excise; Regulators; Think-Tanks; and United Kingdom Police Authorities.

Proposal to the Criminal LAWYER's editor

Preliminary discussions regarding article proposals are encouraged. Please forward via e-mail or telephone the editor, Sally Ramage.

Compliance with the Criminal LAWYER's style

It is preferable that articles are not longer than 3,000 words and not less than 2000 words. Subheadings and bullet points should be used within the article to break up text and to make for easier reading. The article's title should be short and informative. Priority will be given to articles concerning topical issues; critical analysis of recently published case law reports; examination of Home Office Consultations and Legislation. The relevant law should be fully set out and reasons should be given for any opinions or conclusions. Footnotes are not accepted. Case law and legislative provisions should be cited in the text as far as possible. All case law reports cited must have full citation. Author Name, Author Qualifications; Barristers' Chambers; Name of Solicitors Firm; Status of University Lectureship; Name of University Law School and Jurisdiction of Law, should be included with the e-mailed article.

If accepted, the contributor will be notified by e-mail. Authors will be notified within four weeks of the Editor's decision on the acceptability of the article. Authors are required to confirm that the article submitted has not been sent to any other magazine or journal. Before an article is published, the editor must receive the Bloomsbury completed, signed and dated Bloomsbury Professional Author Agreement which states that Bloomsbury Professional has exclusive licence to publish this work. No work can be published without receipt of this signed and completed agreement which must be sent directly to me or the Bloomsbury Head Quarters.

The electronic version of your published article will be e-mailed to you after publication by way of a complimentary copy for your personal use. It must not be distributed without specific permission from the Law Publisher Bloomsbury Professional, on pain of litigation. Your complete current Postal address must be supplied with your article because the editor always investigates fully the veracity of all details before reading the article.

Please address all queries to the editor.

Thank you.
